

Some events can happen so quickly there isn't time for a warning. So don't always wait. Be prepared and act quickly.

Know the signs
before disaster
strikes

You'll find these warnings on websites, apps, through media and other channels. The Australian Warning System brings a consistent approach to warnings for every community for bushfire, floods, storms, cyclones, and extreme heat. That means, no matter where you are, you can trust the warning, understand it and act quickly.
